

A Note From First Grade

This week, (Week 22), we are completing our third reading book, Here and There with the story, "The Fox and the Stork". Next week, (Week 23), we will be reviewing and taking the third book test. On the first two reading book tests, all questions and stories were read to students. On this test, students will have to read parts of the test on their own. This will give us more information about student "reading" skills as opposed to their "listening" skills.

Word Wall/Reading

Words:

Week 22: door, kind, made, who, would

Week 23: Review and testing

Spelling Words:

Week 22: low, bow, row, road, soap, boat, wiggle, middle, talk, school

Week 23: Spelling Review (In class)

Weeks 22-23

In math we are finishing chapter 8. We will then move on to chapter 10, adding with tens and ones. We will also be completing many Valentine-related math activities.

We have completed our unit on "Solids and Liquids" in science and are now concentrating on our social studies unit, "Americans Celebrate". In this unit, we study some history facts about two famous presidents, Abraham Lincoln and George Washington.