

Elementary Math Websites

Academic Skills Builders at <http://www.arcademicskillbuilders.com/>

This site has fun games for kids. They could play many types of math games with each other, whether at home or in school. Teachers could also monitor the progress of each student in their math ability.

Cool Math Games at <http://www.coolmath-games.com/>

These games will help you work on your times tables (multiplication and division) skills.

IXL at <http://www.ixl.com/>

This site is a place where students could practice their math. It is divided by grades and state standards.

Math Playground at <http://www.mathplayground.com/>

An action-packed site for elementary and middle school students by playing a math game and solve a logic puzzle.

Fact Monster at <http://www.factmonster.com/math/flashcards.html>

This site has flashcards in which student could practice their addition, subtraction, multiplication, and division. It is also has seven different levels for each math operation.

Free Rice at <http://freerice.com/category>

For each answer you get correct, they would donate 10 grains of rice to the World Food Program to help end hunger. Students will try to click on the correct answer, if the student get's it correct, that student will get a harder question. If the student gets it wrong, that student will get an easier question.

Math Playground (Math games-Multiplication & Division) at http://mathplayground.com/balloon_invaders.html

Number Invaders-multiplication and division game. The number invaders are descending upon the innocent inhabitants of a distance plant.

Students will help Trevor keep the Number Invaders a safe distance away. Students will need instant recall of math facts and a steady hand to win this game.

Wild Math at <http://www.wildmath.com/instruct.htm>

This is a math timer in which the student will be time to see how many correct problems that could get in the shortest amount of time. When the student's are finished they will receive their score.

Play Kids Games at

<http://www.playkidsgames.com/games/mathfact/default.htm>

Timed practice for addition, subtraction, multiplication and division. This game contains multiple skill levels and a printable results chart.

Math Magician at

<http://oswego.org/ocsdweb/games/mathmagician/cathymath.html>

Students are to answer so many questions in an allotted time.

Literacy Websites

Clifford's Interactive Storybook at Scholastic.com

Interactive storybooks, phonics games, and stories for early readers. Also includes teaching resources such as lesson plans, student activities, such as interactive whiteboard, books and authors.

Between the Lions at pbskids.org

Early literacy skills are presented at this website with games, stories, video clips from the show, and it includes a section for teachers.

Pbs.kids.org (main page)

Watch videos, try storybook creator, play interactive games and make an e-card to send to yourself or a friend.

Sesame Street at pbskids.org

Games, videos from the show, printable coloring pages and bookmarks in English and Spanish, letter hunts, and other reading development skills.

Leading to Reading at RIF.org (Reading is Fundamental)

Different sections for "Babies and Toddlers", "Preschoolers" and "Grown Ups". Click to read online books, sing along with songs to build phonemic awareness, doodle by coloring or drawing a picture, and learn fun facts about expository topics. You can also listen and watch famous children's authors like Eric Carle read stories.

Storylineonline.net brought to you by the Screen Actors' Guild Members

Online streaming video program featuring Screen Actors Guild members such as Betty White and Jason Alexander reading your favorite children's books aloud. Each book includes accompanying activities and lesson ideas.

GameGoo at Earobics.com

Really colorful and interactive literacy games that kids will love such as finding antonyms, sequencing, making words, matching letters, following verbal directions, etc.

Jim's Whirlywood Machine at bbc.co.uk

Children can work on all kinds of literacy skills such as collecting rhyming words, phonics, high frequency words, vowels, and consonants.

Kiptown at asu.edu

"Kindergartener in Progress", an interactive online kindergarten readiness tool for use by preschoolers, parents and care providers. The imaginary neighborhood called Kiptown is home to a curious giraffe who learns as he explores sites in his community. Each place he visits contains developmentally appropriate activities to prepare him for kindergarten. (Warning: contains a very annoying song that can be turned off).

Wordblender Game at bbc.co.uk

Help Wordblender "man" by choosing the starting and ending sounds for each word.

Press 'GO' to find out if you're right! At the end of the game you can print all your words and keep them.

Construct a Word at ReadWriteThink.org

Combine letters to make words from onsets, rimes, suffixes, etc.

Picture Match at ReadWriteThink.org

Match pictures to the correct beginning letter sounds, short vowel sounds, and long vowel sounds.

Word Family Sort at ReadWriteThink.org

Short vowel word sorting activities.

Kizclub.com

Educational language arts activities for preschool and elementary aged children including learning about ABC's, phonics, crafts to make on your own, story patterns, nursery rhymes, flashcards, and teaching extras. The activities can be done in English or Korean.

ABCya.com

ABCya! is a website that provides links to many other high quality children's educational games and activities (similar to this blog). All educational games and activities were created or approved by certified teachers! Games and activities are modeled from primary grade lessons and enhanced to provide an interactive way to learn. All educational games are free. For students in grades K-5.

Childtopia.com

Educational games, learning worksheets, stories, detective activities, listening and reading comprehension activities, learn to draw, etc.. All the activities are in English, Spanish, French and other languages too. The audience is Pre-K through 8th grade.

Utah Education Network at uen.org

This website is a link to a multitude of other quality websites for students. It includes K-2, 3-6 and 7-12 student interactions in the areas of literacy. For the young reader, you can find activities such as ABC's reading, listening, writing, word work, art and music, etc.

Ziggity Zoom at ziggityzoom.com

You can play games, color pictures, read and listen to stories about many different characters, watch kids videos or explore Play Worlds and other activities. This site is designed for kids and their parents to encourage creativity, reading and to really let your imagination soar. Their mission is to encourage kids to learn, be creative, be active, and to help parents by providing worksheets, tools, and articles that promote positive values and healthy living.

Literactive at www.literactive.com

Literactive is comprised of leveled guided readers, comprehensive phonics activities and supplemental reading material which gradually develop a child's reading skills in a sequential and enjoyable manner. All the material is free but you need to register.

TypeIt, ReadIt at www.schoolfreeware.com/Home.html

TypeIt, ReadIt can help anyone who is visually impaired, cannot read, desire to improve their reading comprehension, or simply listen to their documents aloud.

Project Gutenberg at www.gutenberg.org

Project Gutenberg offers over 36,000 free ebooks to download to your PC, Kindle, Android, iOS or other portable devices. Choose between ePub, Kindle, HTML and simple text formats. No fee or registration is required but donations are accepted and encouraged.

Starfall at www.starfall.com

The best areas are the It's Fun to Read and I'm Reading. There are fiction, nonfiction stories, comics, folktales, Greek Myths, poetry, bird riddles and Chinese fables to choose from. If the child gets stuck on a word in the story they can click on the word and it will be read out loud to them.

Free Reading at www.freereading.net

It provides a daily intervention for the various components of reading, from phonemic awareness through vocabulary and comprehension.

Mr. Anker's Tests at <http://henryanker.com/>

This website is for all grade levels and content areas. It also offers other related sites useful for teachers, students, and parents. Games, activities, and assessments are available on this free website.

International Children's Digital Library at <http://en.childrenslibrary.org/>

The International Children's Digital Library Foundation (ICDL) is a website developed to support diverse cultures and languages. The digital library is free and has a plethora of outstanding children's books from around the world. Books are available in hundreds of languages.

Children's Literature Web Guide at

<http://people.ucalgary.ca/~dkbrown/authors.html>

The websites listed here include authors' personal websites and websites maintained by fans, scholars, and readers.

Good Sites for Kids at <http://www.goodsitesforkids.org/literacy.htm>

This amazing website offers links, tools, interactive lessons and games for children of all ages. The primary focus is Reading, Literacy, and Language Arts.

TeachingBooks.net at <http://www.teachingbooks.net/home/>

This online database is developed and maintained to include thousands of resources about fiction and nonfiction books used in the K-12 environment, with every resource selected to encourage the integration of multimedia author and book materials into reading and library activities.

Tumble Book Library at <http://www.tumblebooks.com/library/>

The best overall read-aloud site, with animation, funny voices, and sound effects. It has about 100 stories, puzzles, games, and quizzes. These are actual books found in most school libraries. A subscription site, but it has a 30 day free trial. Well worth the money. Special rates for annual school site subscriptions.

ESL Websites/Reading Websites

Dave's ESL Café at <http://eslcafe.com>

A comprehensive website for ESL teachers and students with resources for language practice, best-practice strategies as well as job postings. Dave's site has been around for a long time has grown and evolved over the years. His website now has multiple resources for international connections and information.

ESL-Kids - Flashcards, Worksheets, Games and Songs at <http://www.esl-kids.com>

This is a K-12 ESL Resource from Judie Haynes. A fun and user-friendly site for teachers and students. This site offers many practical resources and ideas to use in the classroom or in small group pull out settings. There are links to games for kids to practice as well as printable like flashcards.

EverythingESL at <http://www.everythingsl.net>

This website has professional resources for teachers of ESL students in all grade levels. There are sample lesson plans as well as tips for teaching. Authored by a veteran ESL teacher, this site will offer links on staying current in the field and provide updates from current educational associations.

English as a Second Language (ESL) Lesson plans & ideas for teachers: eslflow at <http://www.eslflow.com>

This website has a huge index of links grouped by category that provide teachers numerous options for planning lessons and activities for their students. This index includes links for personal, social and academic topics. In addition, there are links to favorite/successful lessons to use with students.

Free ESL Fun Games, Interactive Grammar & Vocabulary Games for Classrooms at <http://eslgamesworld.com>

This website provides teachers with the tools needed to create fun, interactive games for their students. With templates for popular game shows like Jeopardy, teachers can save and change the content of the games easily to match the content learning in the classroom. There are also ready to play games created on common topics such as vocabulary and reading.

FunBrain at <http://funbrain.com>

This website is a student favorite! You will find games galore rooted in academic skills that are very motivating for students. Teachers love it because it gives them choices on choosing games by skill or content topic. Different levels of difficulty challenge students at all levels.

Mr. Nussbaum at <http://www.mrnussbaum.com/langcode.htm>

This website is a rich resource for both teachers and students; hence, a thousand sites in one. Featuring thumbnails of links, this site is varied and user friendly for teachers and students. It's cross-curricular and organized to find activities by grade level.

Sheppard Software at <http://sheppardsoftware.com>

The learning games accessible to teachers and students are of superior quality and often parallel the grade specific content units. The graphics and layout are excellent for ESL students as they clear and precise. This site is one of the few that make access to quality geographic activities available to young students.